Local Children enjoy Panto

On 6th December, children from Dines Green Primary School were treated to an afternoon at the Swan Theatre to enjoy this year's panto, Jack and the Beanstalk. The visit was funded by Clarke Roxburgh Insurance Brokers and organised by Huntingdon Arts.

Steve Gough, Head Teacher at Dines Green said "The children had a lovely time. To see the look on their faces and hear them grow in confidence as they joined in with the responses, was wonderful. The visit was not only a rare opportunity for many to go to a real theatre and see a fantastic production but also provides excellent material for discussion and writing back in the class room. We would like to say a big 'thank you' to Chris Jaeger and his team at the Swan for their hospitality and Clarke Roxburgh for making the visit possible."

Simon Egerton, Director of Clarke Roxburgh said "I am delighted that through our sponsorship of the Swan Theatre and Huntingdon Hall we have been able to fund this event for Dines Green Primary School. What a great way for a business to give something back to the community – supporting an important local arts organisation whilst giving some of our young people the opportunity to experience the theatre."

Director of Huntingdon Arts, Chris Jaeger said "This is the highlight of panto season for me, seeing (and hearing!) so many youngsters really enjoying themselves. Attending the theatre in early years opens up a whole new world of culture that will hopefully become a lifelong passion for many. We are grateful to all our corporate sponsors for their generosity and hope that more businesses will follow suit."

The pantomime runs until 28th December 2005, so for tickets or to find out what else is on at the Swan Theatre or Huntingdon Hall, call 01905 611427 or visit www.huntingdonarts.com.
